

B.C.S. ALUMNI BULLETIN

VOL. 1 No. 2

MAY, 1977

LENNOXVILLE, QUE.

The Following Statement was Issued by The Headmaster on April 7, 1977

At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors the provincial government's white paper on language was discussed at length. It was generally agreed that the PQ government's intention is to discourage English education in this province.

While the white paper is not yet law, the resulting Bill will probably contain changes of, at best, a minor nature. The government's attitude towards private schools is unknown, although we have been informed that grants will be reduced, and it has been recommended that we freeze our enrolment at its present level.

The Directors agreed that, for the present, BCS will continue to accept grants and to adhere to the regulations of the Department of Education as we have in the past. However, should we find in the future that the standard of education which we have worked so hard to reach and maintain over the years is being jeopardized, and should we find in the future that we are being forced to discriminate against any individual student because of his or her race, colour, or creed, our Board of Directors will immediately review our relationship with the Department of Education.

It is the firm policy of this school to protect the fundamental rights of freedom of choice and speech of all members of our constituency, present and future.

Yours affectionately,

Adelaide Gillard.

The above title belongs to book, only recently published. It is a collection of all of Gilly's letters written to her students, each year in the School Magazine, during her thirty-eight years as Principal of King's Hall.

The book begins with a short history of the School and a description of the many attributes Miss Gillard brought with her on her arrival in 1930. Over the years, these attributes were passed on to hundreds of girls, who will remember her advice and ideals for the rest of their lives. Interspersed throughout the book, are many warm comments and reminiscences by Old Girls, but it is the letters which have been assembled into this one volume that really make it something very special to possess.

Many, many thanks must go to the three Old Girls who not only had the brilliant idea for the book but who carried it out as well. It was a big job to locate every School Magazine, to interview, to compile the works and to deal with publishers, etc. Many would have given up. However, it was all done for only one reason, that these timeless letters should be made available for all the girls who were at School in that era. The Old Girls are: Diana (Schwartz) Pringle, class of '40; Flora McD. Baptist, class of '35 and Margaret Ann (Forbes) Fuller, class of '45. Two teachers at King's Hall also helped tremendously with the work, Mary Morris and Gwladys Keyser, who was able to see the finished product before her death.

"Yours Affectionately" is now available to you in a limited supply, so if you would like a copy, we have a few at the School or write: Mrs. D. Pringle, 37 Peel St., No. 704, Barrie, Ont., L4M 3L1. Three dollars per copy.

The letters can be read over and over again and one will still learn something new and valuable on each reading. You will enjoy it immeasurably!

Editor's Note

This is only my second note to all of you and already my second apology! This time, it regards those Alumni who have written to me for information and have not yet received any reply. The letters have been arriving in fair quantities, which is wonderful, but keeping up is difficult and all I can say is that those of you waiting for class lists, etc. will hear from me before New Year's Day, 2000 A.D.!

Another thought that I would like to pass on is that, in time, you are going to tire of a newsletter entirely written from one person's perspective. Surely, there are many of you out there with ideas, comments or views you would like to express to the others. I would welcome any exposé, letter or editorial by you to print in the Bulletin about anything you might feel strongly about, be it politics, current events, school memories, etc., etc. Also, many of you must have some great pictures taken during your school days which would be fun to send in and have scattered throughout the newsletter. After all, this is your Bulletin and would be far more interesting for us all if you were to be a direct part of its making. It could also start some wonderful debates by mail so get your pen and paper out and start writing before postage rates increase another two cents!

Margot Graham

Congratulations!

As you all know, there have been several marriages over the years between K.H.C. Old Girls and B.C.S. Old Boys. However, very few people are aware that on June 24th, 1977, a very special wedding will take place in La Sarre, Quebec. It will be the marriage of Anne-Marie Perron and Louis Paul Dupuy and will represent the very first actual B.C.S. wedding in our history.

Anne-Marie and Louise Paul graduated from B.C.S. in 1974 and were both Prefects that year. They are now continuing in their respective college studies and will be residing in Montreal.

I am sure all the members of the Alumni Association and School will join in wishing them every happiness on that historic day and for their future life together.

B. C. S. PLAYERS CLUB: Getting better every year

A long time ago, before the snow even began to fall in the Eastern Townships, a large and dedicated group in the B.C.S. community, known as the "Players Club", were beginning their work towards a production of "Bye Bye Birdie". Well, the big night finally arrived and the musical was presented without a hitch.

The entire play was well done from the singing, dancing and comedy to the makeup, set design and costumes.

If you are familiar with the play, you will especially remember the telephone scene and the Ed Sullivan Show scene in which Mr. MacAfee (played by David McDonagh) hogs the camera and absolutely ruins Conrad Birdie's (Jono Howson) big song on nationwide television. Another scene which was excellently choreographed and executed, was the "Shriner's Ballet" and Rose Alvares (Kate Brown) was superb in that number along with all the Shriners.

The audience was in stitches throughout the performance and many people saw it both evenings which must have been a great compliment to the actors. One reason for its great success was the clever casting. Every player suited his or her part perfectly — Geoff Scott as Albert Peterson; Sarah Grass as his far too overbearing mother; Vicki Doheny as Kim MacAfee; Willa MacDougall in the hilarious role of the mayor's wife; Matt Kenny as the bartender, and of course, Jono Howson as the tough and very vague Conrad Birdie.

Twenty-nine students took part in the acting, many playing up to four separate roles, and another forty students doing all the back-stage work and management.

"Bye Bye Birdie" was produced and directed by Mr. Rod Lloyd; music directed and played by Mr. Bevan; choreography by Betsey Tirk and much additional help from Baba Cowans, the Detchens, Jim Winder, Marg McGregor and Donna Campbell.

Looking forward to another great success next year. The School has no shortage of hams and talented hams at that!

Queen's and Western Gatherings

On March 9th of this year, the Headmaster and Eric Detchen, Director of Studies went on a little trip to join a gathering of Alumni who are presently attending Queen's and the University of Western Ontario. Although these students attend the same university, they don't often see each other or even know whether someone they went to school with might be in the lecture hall next door. This type of reunion gives them a chance to make their very large communities seem a little smaller.

At Queen's, the gathering was held in Ban Righ Hall and only one out of the twenty-four Alumni there was unable to attend. From all reports, a good time was had by all. Thanks go to Tim Price and Peter Smith who worked on all of the arrangements. Those present were: Paul Tinari, David Bonnett, Mark Stephen, Mike Lacasse, Mike Zinay, Graeme Magor, Stephen Prescott, Scott Pritchard, Deb Pritchard, Linda Cooper, Marion Mitchell, Linda Gosling, Chris Bovaird, Derek Sewell, Barbara Weir, Heather Lawson, Richard Vaughan, Steve Mulherin, Simon Lewis, Lyna Ouellet, Corina Chisnell and Carol Sewell.

At Western, on March 10th, James Thatcher and Graham Hallward organized the big event which was held at Graham's apartment. Food, etc. was plentiful and many were able to pull themselves away from their studies to attend. Entertainment was provided by Tony Ross' admirable demonstration of how to nurse a drink, eat pretzels, carry on a lively conversation and walk on crutches all at the same time! The party was represented by graduates from the classes of '72 through '76 who enjoyed a mixture of nostalgia and catching up with current B.C.S. news. Some of those attending were: Gordie McGee, Roy Wolvin, Sandra Westhoff, Mike Jennings, Carrie McDougall, Ashley Park, Kelly Smith, Frazer McConnell, Alan Monk, Wayne Ghans, Nick Lomasney, Françoise Guibord, Gay Merrill, Anne-Marie Bélanger and Daniel Boitreau.

Over the past few years, these two universities have taken by far the majority of our graduates and if this trend keeps up, such gatherings will no doubt become an annual tradition.

An Obituary

Dear Margot, the news of the passing of Toby Rankin may have reached the Association by now, however I would like to pass on to you an excerpt from a column in the Vancouver Sun which summarizes what in essence made Toby sick.

Toby was one of my oldest friends dating back to early Selwyn House days and we watched him endure his diabetic problem without ever a complaint. He was a great guy and was much the same person in his late twenties and early thirties as many will have remembered him at Bishop's.

His memorial service was a special tribute to a person who enjoyed life to the hilt and we were told by the minister that Toby would not have wanted people to be "sad and miserable". Toby had many friends and they all turned out to a most beautiful service.

Sincerely,
John McLernon

HERE IS THE ARTICLE: The kidney transplant was rejected and then further complications set in and finally Toby Rankin, a 36-year-old man with a great zest of life, died at the weekend. A few weeks ago we told you how Toby spent the few hours before he was due to go into hospital. He went out and shot pictures in a furniture store for a client because, as he said, he'd "have gone nuts hanging around the apartment". Toby never claimed to be the world's greatest freelance commercial photographer, but he was certainly one of the most imaginative. He was the instigator of an "international incident" when he cajoled a Soviet soldier to pose with a bottle of Canadianmade vodka in Red Square. The subsequent ad campaign ran internationally. A few years ago, he and designer Paul Kuzma, working out of Vancouver, sold real estate boards in several U.S. cities on a THIS IS... book, which was then printed in Vancouver. This Is Atlanta, in which Toby's unerring commercial eye combined with rare artistry, won some major awards. He'd drop notes from various locations. One came from Tennessee where they'd just launched THIS IS MEMPHIS in mid-1974. "Things seemed to be happening for us but I can't figure out why I don't get any work in Vancouver. We're off to Nashville to sign a contract to do a book there. Pittsburgh looks good too, but I don't know whether I really want to shoot Pittsburgh — I gave up smoking three years ago!"

Montreal Annual Alumni Dinner

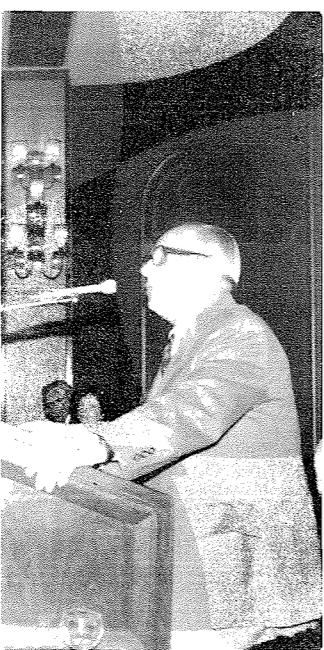

"One picture is worth a thousand words"-so the saying goes, so I will let the following photos tell most of the story of the evening. The turnout was excellent — 157 sat down to dinner and the guests ranged from the class of 1923 to the class of 1974 with the largest contingent from the 60's.

As in the past, the meeting segment of the evening went quickly so that everyone could get back to chatting to their friends. The 1976 Auditors Report was given; the amendment to change the fiscal year end from October 31 to December 31 was approved; and the amendment to expand the present 10 directors to 16 directors was approved. We welcome to the Board some eager, new members; Kip Cobbett '66, Libby Nelles '70, Eve McInnis '56, Anthony Graham '74 and John Seveigny '70. There will also be a member of this year's graduating class sitting in on the meetings. We also bid goodbye and many thanks to two departing directors, Margot Grant and Kathy (Winser) Leopold who, between them, have put in over eight years of consistent good work.

Of course, the highlight of the evening was the superb after dinner speech by Dr. Ogden Glass. It was full of hilarious stories and jokes about his life at B.C.S. as a student and later as Headmaster. It was truly the perfect speech for such a gathering and will be remembered by all for a very long time to come.

Other special guests included Graham Patriquin, who gave a wonderful and informative introduction to Oggie; Lewis Evans; and Madame Yarrill, whom the Old Girls were thrilled to see again.

Many thanks to the fellows at the Chateau Champlain Hotel who put up with this group from 6 p.m. to midnight. Everyone received their wine on time and there have been no reports of botulism, so the event must have been a success!

Message to Toronto Area Alumni...

For the past couple of years, the attendance of Alumni at the Annual Toronto Dinner in May has continued to remain pathetically small. It has therefore been decided that Toronto should be given a rest for this year and that early plans and perhaps a new approach to next year's dinner will hopefully increase the interest and the numbers.

The organizers in Toronto always work hard on the arrangements but, being only human, become discouraged when their efforts receive little response. To those who were looking forward to the evening, our apologies. Next year, folks — the wait will be worth it!

CUBA TODAY

Over the recent Easter holidays, seven B.C.S. students accompanied by teacher, Ken McCaffery spent a week visiting Cuba. They spent half their stay in Havanna and the remainder in Varadero. Most of their touring was done by bus or by foot and they did get some great beach days in too. I spoke to a few of the returnees and they gave me their general impressions.

On the whole, they found Havanna very clean and the people very friendly even though not much English is spoken. They toured the cigar factory and were amazed that the 800 employees make over 90,000 cigars a day entirely by hand!! The other spot that appealed to them greatly, was the Tropicana. Fifty showgirls and pantomime artists entertain there and the dancing and costumes were very impressive. The kids ate well, mainly local fish, green tomatoes and fried bananas. They learned quickly that in Cuba, where people don't have many ways of spending their money other than on cigars and rum, one must make a dinner reservation at least a week in advance. As a result, they ate most of their meals at their hotel. No menu there, it was eat what you get!

The students did notice quite a few things which did not please them very much. The museums were almost entirely full of post revolution items with a distinct political overtone. The boys discovered that isn't proper for men in Cuba to wear shorts. As they strolled along the streets in their Bermudas, everyone started pointing and laughing at them. The girls weren't too pleased at having to bat cockroaches and fleas over the head in their hotel and the crank toilets provided lots of work for them too! Also, one of the major ice cream stands on the island, had a constant queue of at least 400 people and the students never did get used to the slow pace of the island.

One boy met a American who has lived in Cuba for six years — he is an ex-hijacker so I guess he will be there for several years to come!

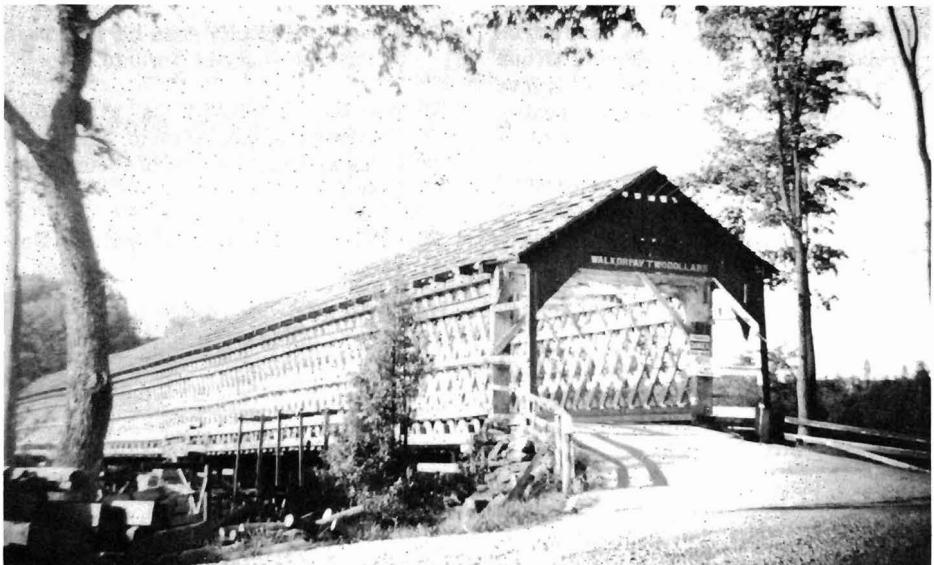

All in all, the students learned much more about life there in that one week than they ever could from books. One of them summed up the trip nicely for me when he said "It's a great place to visit for people who want to see what communism is like."

PASSING PICS

The following pictures from the past were supplied by Betsy (Andras) — '67 and Jack Goodson — '38.

(OLD) OLD BOYS vs SENIOR TEAM

LENNOXVILLE — March 5th, 1977 — There was an excellent turnout of Old Boys in "high spirits" and raring to go against the Senior Team. The game was a fast moving, wide and open one in which the Old Boys had to really work hard at first to obtain goal opportunities. By the end of the first period, the Senior Team was ahead 3-1.

The Old Boy supporters were beginning to lose hope in the second period when B.C.S. scored yet another goal. All was not lost however, for the Old Boys skated on and began to take the initiative. The second period ended 4-2 for the Senior Team.

By the third segment, the Old Boys were really pouring it on and letting nothing to chance and the B.C.S. Team was beginning to feel the pressure. The Oldies scored three straight goals in that period and held on in the closing minutes to win the game by a final score of 5-4. It was a classic "come from behind" game, filled with action — Les Canadiens couldn't have done it better!

The real excitement however, was that all four McLernon brothers came from all across Canada to give the team a hand. They not only helped out but ended up scoring every single goal! There were three scored by Rob, one by John, another by Dave and many kept out of the Old Boys nets by Colin. It was great Teamwork!

The game was also the last to be played in those moth-eaten sweaters which have been around for a long, long time. They were officially retired and given to each player as a memento to either frame or burn. Next year's team will enter the ice in flashy polyester jobs, courtesy of the Alumni Association.

Everyone headed to the Board Room afterwards for the post-game party in honour of the victorious players.

The players were: Lewis Evans, Gordie Price, Tim Bradley, Peter Dunn, Mike Skutezky, Gordie Glass, Scott Mudiman, Brian Messier, Rick Vaughan, Duncan McMartin, and the McLernon's. Well done!

A SUCCESS STORY

The most recent Bulletin (February, 1977) brought two Alumni into correspondence with each other because they discovered that they had a common interest in children with learning disabilities.

Sally (Sharwood) Drummond, class of '51, read about Ralph Paull's (class of '44) invention, the Patchwork Kit, which is a great learning tool for these children. He called Sally from North Carolina and they had a long chat about

B.C.S., Trudeau's visit to congress, etc. He is sending her twelve dozen Patchwork Kits which will be displayed at the Quebec Association of Children with Learning Disabilities Conference. It is attended by over 2,000 teachers, psychologists, laymen, etc. and should be a good place to try them out. Mr. Paull has also offered Sally's group the Canadian rights to help finance Project Kids, a recreation and socialization project that she is directly involved with running.

It goes to show that news from you is not only interesting for your friends to read but can turn out to be very important. This story is also a good example of the loyalty and helpfulness of our Alumni towards each other. Different ages, geographical distance, etc. are no barriers it seems when you have school as a common bond.

Hoping that many more of you will be able to use the Bulletin as a stepping stone in your individual endeavours!
